SINE CERA

In the days of old, so runs the tale,
 When statues great were made
 That human kind might thus extoll
 Some man who'd made the grade

They formed each tiny curve so true,
 Those Romans skilled of old,
 That looking one could scarcely see
 A scratch or scar, 'tis told.

But later artists trying hard
 And using greatest care
 Still found when they had finished work
 Some imperfections there.

And so to make their work look smoothe
 As tho there'd been on cracks
 They filled the scars and scratches up
 With a special filling wax.

"Sine Cera"—"Without wax", they said
 When later telling men

Of the perfect statues made of old
 And never made again.

Sincere they were, and brave, and true,
 They were just what they were
 Unvarnished, genuine, upright
 "Straight goods" they would aver.

And so dear class of twenty-eight,
 Let us be without wax
 "Sine Cera" in all things we do
 Sine Cera" in all things we do
 Sincere in our attacks

True to ourselves for what we are
 True to the school we claim
 Sincere in word and thought and deed
 And keep unstained our fame

Sine Cera!

SENIOR WEINER ROAST

On Monday evening, May 7th a group of Seniors gathered on the steps of the Administration building. Leaving some of their dignity behind, and taking along a plentiful supply of the indispensable "eats" they next appeared at the annex of the cemetery. These justice was done to the "indispensables", important business was transacted and a good time had by all.

One of the famous novelists had a suit for every day of the week."

Frat man: "I heard the other day that

Second Frat man: "That's nothing! I've got a suit for every day of the year and I'm wearing it now."

"Do you think that professor Kidder meant anything by it?"

"What?"

"He advertised a lecture on "Fools." I bought a ticket and it read "Admit One."—Dry Goods Economist.

Seniordom and Graduation

Just a few more days and the last words will be said, the last rites performed, then the end. Some of those who entertain high hopes of being counted among the best will find that their most passionate ideals will be realized: but what of the rest?

Some are accused of catering to so-called 'faculty whims' with the purpose of originating an atmosphere which will in the end bring a good recommendation or grade, while others have chosen to go their own way, obey their own instincts, cater to nothing but their own mind, these are the two classes, both extremes are equally undesirable, but nevertheless characteristic of some students, both seniors and those in lower classes.

To the person falling in the first class, suffice it to say he shall die at his own hand. False pride and an egotistical attitude sing their own funeral dirge, they drive their own hearse, they dig their own grave. One may fool part of the people all of the time and all of the people part of the time, but never will all of the world be fooled all of the time.

But what of the second class?

Will they fail? to be in a position to fall precludes that some relative height must have been attained and they lack the ambition necessary for the climb, it is more blessed to sleep than to share the thrills of battle, it takes less energy than playing the game with might and soul, it is easier to tear down than to offer something constructive; "telling the world" means less effort than "showing the world." These attitudes it matters not toward whom they are directed, may carry a person through college where the environment is of the best, what will happen when these who pose as friends are far away? these friends do not help to strengthen character, but only allows it to be built upon a false foundation, a true friend will guide instead of deciding in with undesirable attitudes. Otherwise, he is a hinderance.

To the seniors again, this is too late, they have passed the place of turning back, only to meditate upon the things past is possible now, but to the rest, now is the time to take into consideration that destructive attitudes will meet with misfortune in the field of life. Wise is the man who overcomes himself before it is too late.

Tomorrows are always the products of yesterdays. Yesterday was the sowing, to-morrow will be the harvest. If the right seed is sown, the harvest can be trusted.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Bee Gee News Staff for their kindly efforts toward the success of the college paper this year, also Prof. Beattie for his advice in making the paper a success. Also the reporters.

The college paper is a means of informing faculty, students and alumni of the various activities on the campus. I have talked with a number of students and teachers of Northwestern Ohio and they report that the pupils are eager to read each issue, which is also a means to bring students to the College.

I want to thank the Freshmen for their issue of the Bee Gee News. It was a good number. This class has some good talent along journalistic lines and ought to be made use of in future years.

ERIE CLUB

Tuesday, May twenty-second, at 7:00 P. M., witnessed the last meeting of the Erie County lub for this year. At this meeting, it was planned to have a picnic this summer in which all the old members of B. G. N. C., and the prospective members would be united. The place of the picnic will be decided in the near future.

The following officers were elected for next year:

President, Esther Crecelius; Vice-president, Helen Marcky; Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth Milkey; Advisor, Miss Brod.

Many interesting things were planned for the next year, which the club hopes to make a bigger and beter one. With that, the meeting was adjourned.

The Five Sisters Sorority held its annual spring dance at the Women's Club May 11. Leo Lake's orchestra furnished music for thirty couples. Kate Taber, Peg Hayward and Agnes McKinnon made arrangements which were unusually clever. The chaperons were: Miss Mary Everett, Miss Dorothy Haskins, Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Castner.

Commoners Fraternity

The Commoners held their regular meeting Tuesday evening at their house on North Summit street. The major portion of the evening was devoted to administering the final degree to the pledges. The following are now full fledged Commoners; Holles Dindot, Grover Hill, O; John Hough, Potsdam, N. Y.; Ramon Current, Dunbridge, O; William Cox, Weston, O; Otis Smith, Rudolph, O; Frank Campbell, Ellsworth Capen, Howard George, and Robert Alexander, Bowling Green, O. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for a final get-together luncheon Thursday noon.

During the past week Brother Luther Pugh has been staying at the house and renewing old acquaintances. Luke is home on leave preparatory to going in the latter part of June to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Afternoon Tea Honors

One of the loveliest and most distinguished of the spring affairs was the tea Tuesday, May 15, at which Mrs. Maude Sharpe, Dean of Women at the College entertained in her home on S. Maple street, complimenting her house guest, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, of Oxford, Ohio, Dean of Women at Miami University.

The guests were members of the College faculty, who were invited to meet Dean Hamilton informally between the hours of 3 and 6. They had previously had the pleasure of hearing her in chapel Tuesday morning when she spoke on China, India, and Japan.

Lilacs, delicately hued and sweetly scented, were used generously and beautifully about the rooms. A bowl of the same blossom centered the tea table. At either side burned white tapers in silver holders. Miss Caroline Nielson poured tea for the first hour, Mrs. Clare Martin for the second hour and Miss Matilda Morelock presided during the third hour of receiving. Mrs. Irene Canary Mooers assisted the hostess in dispensing hospitality and five young girls, officers of the Woman's League of the College, served.

Toledo Club Sponsors

Each year it has become the custom in the Toledo Club, for the organization to sponsor a chapel program.

This year the program was given on the chapel period of May 8. The committee was fortunate in securing the services of Dr. R. Lincoln Long, minister at the Collingwood Avenue Presbyterian Church, Toledo, as speaker for the occasion. The subject of his talk was "The Third Miracle." Music for the program was furnished by Miss Catherine Hhouse.

The committee in charge of the arrangements were Eleanor Majeska, Helen Starkweather and Jessie Lillitch.

YE OLD FIVE BROTHERS

At last our social program is finished, and once more we are preparing to take an extended vacation till September. At the present time all except Warner, Knecht, McDaniels and Markle, are planning to come back in the fall. The only feature remaining is our final meeting, which will be held on Monday evening, June 4.

We have had a very successful year. Several new men have been taken into our organization, and several more are now passing through the Neophyte State. We are very proud to learn of the success that the Alumni has had in the teaching profession. Some of the men are stepping up into positions of greater responsibility each year. Bro. Joe Ladd is finishing up at West Point. Bro. Donnal V. Smith is preparing for his L. L. D. at the University of Chicago. Bro. Jonathan Ladd is entering Western Reserve University next fall to work out his M. A. These men are the ones that have graduated from B. G. and are now out to go higher in their profession.

We wish to extend to the graduating brothers at this time our congratulations and hope for their success in the field that they enter. We are envious of them, because it is something to be proud of when that "Sheepskin" is handed over, and once more our Commencement Days begins.

We are planning for a bigger year already, and plans are being made to make it the best year in the history of the fraternity.

SEVEN SISTER

The Seven Sisters Sorority held their regular meeting at Shatzel Hall on Tuesday, May 8. Another degree was administered to the pledges, followed by a short business meeting in which plans for a steak roast in the near future were discussed.

TO THE MEN—

You pass up the razor every time you can think of an alibi.

You talk with a cigarette in your mouth.

You very seldom hold the door open for us.

You almost never tip you hat.

You wear creaseless trousers on rainy days.

You hate to wear a "tux".

You eat gooey eggs for breakfast.

You are enthusiastic about the humble coed when we're with you.

You never invite us to dinner even though the rule books are willing.

You buck classes and get by somehow.

You snore in classes.

You drive moth-eaten flivvers.

You are always dabbling in college politics.

You think three dates with one man means no more circulation.

You are an awful pain and a blot on the feminine escutcheon.

But God—How we love you!

Party Given At Dean Dorm

Graduation is drawing near, and with it approaches the inevitable parting of the graduates and their college friends. At such a time nothing is more appropriate than an informal gathering for a last friendly chat, but such a gathering is impracticable in a large dormitory. It is only in a residence like Dean Dorm, where the girls have grown into the friendly intimacy of a family that such a gathering is possible.

A party for our graduates is a traditional occurrence here at Dean Dorm. And those of you who have never lived here cannot appreciate gaiety of that occurrence, with seventeen happy faces grouped around the piano. Mother Dean, herself, is one of that seventeen, for she is very much a part of us.

Thus on May 28 we assembled shortly after dinner for a program which included an original poem, a solo, a trio, and a group "sing". Following this program our three graduates, the Misses Elizabeth Bixler, Catherine Pattingale, and Beatrice Riggs, were each presented with a lovely silver meat fork engraved with their respective initials and the date. After we were through admiring the gifts, we enjoyed that indispensable part of a party—games.

The crowning event of the occasion was the serving of refreshments, vanilla and strawberry ice cream and cake. Of course you know it was Mother Dean who furnished that, it was just one example of the many thoughtful, kindly things she does for us.

Thus ended the party. But let up hope that the friendships which it has sealed will last beyond the school year, which is at last drawing to a close.

Those present were: Elizabeth Bixler, Mary Bowers, Mildred Danklefsen, Amy Favorite, Coila Flora, Mrs. Flora, Bernida Hacker, Marjorie Howe, Lela Huber, Catherine Pattingale, Beatrice Riggs, Gertrude Schmidlin, Celia Sindel, Mabel Topping, Isabelle Wagner, Olive Wallrabenstein, and Mother Dean.

Annual Picnic of Five Brothers

One of those hilarious affairs of the spring season that stirs the blood of the collegian and brings back the elixir of youth to the old and decrepit grad, was the event of Tuesday afternoon, May 22. The annual spring picnic of the Five Brothers Fraternity was held at Vollmar's Park on the Maumee.

One hundred and ten members, their wives and sweethearts and kiddies joined with the gang to celebrate the annual get-to-gether. There were many alumni members present.

Baseball was on the program for the afternoon with about 18 men on each side and one of the teams won the game. The picnicians joined other games and enjoyment on the apparatus around the park and everyone was ready when the call for the lunch was launched.

After everyone had completed this most popular event of the day, an hour of boating was enjoyed beneath the golden moonlight on the shimmying or

Dinner was served at 7:30 following which Miss Katharine Sans sang two vocal solos accompanied on the piano by Miss Howe. Misses Bell and Beth Joseph played a piano duet and Dr. C. C. Kohl made the talk of the evening on "The Essence of Jesus' Teaching." "Follow the Gleam," the Y. W. C. A. song, sung by the girls, concluded a delightful affair.

Faculty guests were Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Kohl, Prof. and Mrs. John Schwarz, and Dr. Florence Williamson.

B G Licks Defiance

On May 19th, on their home lot, the Falcon Nine chalked up a smarting defeat to the Defiance Yellow Jackets which left the home team on the long end of a 3 to 2 score.

Yawberg started thing rolling in the third inning by running 'home' when a Defiance athlete hurled the pill for a new distance record over his third sack-er's head.

The Defiance outfit however collected a brace of runs in the 7th and 8th innings to put them ahead at the start of the last half of the last episode. Then the Falcons garnered two more runs to win the game which incidentally was the first defeat for Defiance this season.

Falcons Continue Winning Streak

With Howdy Filiere on the mound, the Falcons snatched a close game from the Bluffton Beavers at Bluffton on May 25. The final score was, B. G.—3 and Bluffton—1.

Stellars Clubbers opened the scoring program in the first inning with one marker. The second was scoreless and the third gave us the victory. Filiere, with Glasere on second, planted the pill in a rose bush about a three minutes ride from the grand stand. The fielder arrived with the ball some moments after Howdy had made the circuit.

From then on Bee Gee's score sheet looked worse than the percentage content of alcohol in America's near beer.

Bluffton gathered in a single run during the fracas. Filiere breezed nine members and four Falcons took the count.

Marietta Wallops Falcons

Eggenberger, the classy hurler for Marietta College, let Bee Gee down with six hits and a total loss of the game here Saturday, May 26. The final score was 8 to 3.

Zeissler chucked good ball for the Falcons except for the 3rd and 8th spasms when the down State boys gathered 4 runs on each occasion.

It might be well to say at this time that Marietta is "nobody's set up." They forced Ohio State into 13 innings before they lost by one point.

B G—Toledo—Defiance Track Meet

The triangle track meet between Toledo, Defiance and Bowling Green held the on the local athletic field proved to be some meet. The final score being B. G., 49; Toledo, 48; Defiance, 38.

Three track records and one field record were broken during the day. This was very remarkable considering that the early part of the meet was run off in the rain. The records broken were: Mile, won by McDaniel of Bowling Green. Time, 4:46.6; two mile, won by Dille of Defiance. Time 10:46.8; one mile relay won by the Defiance team. Time 3:47.3; and the discus throw won by Fish of Bowling Green. Distance 122 feet.

The professor had asked time and again for the students to put more personal touch in their themes, so one of the papers which he received ended thus:

"Well, Professor, how are the wife and kiddies; and, by the way, before I forget it, could you lend me five dollars?"—Penn Punch Bowl.

Here is the story about the most optimistic man: Totally bald, he went to a drug store and asked for a bottle of hair restorer. "Yes sir", the clerk said, "Here is a preparation that is sure to make the hair grow." "All right," replied the optimist, "I'll take a bottle. And please wrap a comb with it."—The Argonaut.

A tourist once happened to meet the usual "oldest inhabitant" of a village. In the course of the conversation he asked the ancient how old he was.

"I be just a hundred," was the reply.

"Well I doubt if you'll see another hundred years," said the tourist, trying to make conversation.

"I don't know so much about that, master," was the hopeful response, "I be stronger now than when I started on my first hundred."—The Roycroft.

Have you noticed the sad look on the face of the Seniors? Maybe it's because they hate to graduate and leave old B. G. N. C.—and again maybe it's because they're afraid they'll flunk and have to stay in B. G. N. C. next year.

Who says Bowling Green State Normal College can't do things correctly? We would cite you to the Crowning of Our May Queen as a good example of the right thing done at the right time.

Teacher: "What do you mean by chance?"

Pupil: "Well, it's like this. If I don't study my lesen, I'm taking a chance that you won't call on me."

Who would have thought that Miss McCain would swear in class?

rather, shimmering water.

An evening of dancing to tunes played by Leo Lake's orchestra proved a fitting climax to the day. Prof. and Mrs. Biery, Prof. and Mrs. Powell and kiddies, Coach Steller and Coach and Mrs. Landis were the guests of the Five Brothers.
